Surveying to grow our purses

The NCHA, assisted by Grotta Marketing Research Company, will survey cutting horse contestants and fans during this year's Summer Spectacular.

The interview takes about five minutes, and contains questions about the number of days you are in town for NCHA events, and the things you purchase while you are here.

The data collected from these surveys will assist us in utilizing new Texas legislation to grow our purses for the NCHA "Triple Crown" events.

If you are asked to be interviewed, we appreciate your willingness to help! ★

Barwick and Vangilder first day leaders

Queen and Vangilder second-best

Dual Rey Me, who scored 221.5 as reserve champion of the Open Classic/Challenge on Friday, come back Saturday morning to tie for the lead of the Non-Pro division under Candace Barwick, shown with her husband, and Dual Rey Me's open rider, Jeremy Barwick.

Just 12 hours after Jeremy Barwick, Stephenville, Texas, tackled three tough cows to score 221.5 points and claim the reserve championship of the NCHA Classic/Challenge on Dual Rey Me, his wife, Candace Barwick, rode their gelded son of Dual Pep to score 219 points in the first go-round of the Non-Pro division, and tied Jim Vangilder and Sun Valley Shorty for the lead.

Six-year-old Dual Rey Me's latest win increased his earnings to more than $275,000.

Flying high

Before Tom Bailey retired as CEO of an investment company a few years ago, he purchased a ranch near Carbondale, Colorado, as a haven for fly fishing. The former owner of the ranch raised halter horses and Bailey, who had never ridden, let him stay on with his horses. As a result, Bailey learned to ride for pleasure.

When the former owner died, Bailey considered leasing the ranch for hay or cattle, or to another horse owner. It was then that he met Barbra Schulte, who suggested he consider raising cutting horses.

Left to right: Jim Vangilder rode Sun Valley Shorty to tie Candace Barwick and Dual Rey Me with 219, yesterday's high score. He also tied Elizabeth Queen, center, and Instance for second place with 218.5 points; Mary Jo Milner, with grandson Jake Milner, Junior Youth champion, tied Tom Bailey and Billy Martin with 218 points, the third-highest score.

"I said, 'What's that?'" Bailey recalled. "I'm sort of a Wall Street geek. I didn't know anything about horses."

His first look at a cutting horse was as Schulte's guest at the NCHA Futurity. "I thought they were wonderful athletes," said Bailey, who decided to establish a small breeding operation with several well-bred broodmares. Then he attended one of Schulte's famous cutting clinics.

"You only have to ride one of these horses once," he said. "It's addicting. I love it."

A little over a year ago, Bailey purchased Spookys Smarty Pants, a leading open aged event contender owned by Jeff Barnes and ridden by Gary Gonsalvez. Yesterday, Bailey rode the six-year-old Smart Aristocrat daughter for the first time and marked 218 points in the Non-Pro first go-round.

"It was definitely a thrill," said Bailey, who made his Fort Worth debut at the 2005 Super Stakes, where he scored 211 points in the amateur division aboard Twistin Tenina.

"I got my feet wet in Fort Worth," he said. "Yankee Stadium."

Bailey, who grew up in Canada, just across the border from Detroit, now lives full-time on the Iron Rose Ranch, where he maintains a dozen broodmares and oversees the training and marketing of their foals.

"When I left the investment bank, it just seemed like it would be a big challenge to get into a business that I knew nothing about," he said. "I really enjoy the people in this business and learning the ins and outs of it. Everyone has been very, very nice to me."
