Caleb Anderson, 15, left, won the Senior Youth championship with 228 points on Las Vegas Lights, owned by his father, Steve Anderson. Harris Shepard, 13, right, won the Junior Youth title with 224 points on Peponita Times Two, owned by Khader Daoud.

Caleb Anderson and Las Vegas Lights lit up Will Rogers Coliseum last night with a 228-point winning performance in the Senior Youth.

"My adrenaline and heart were pumping so hard," said Caleb, 15, a freshman at All Saints Episcopal School in Fort Worth. "I knew I had a monster run."

Caleb chipped a third cow with 20 seconds left on the clock, going for the win. "I was just hoping I could hold it," he said. "After my run, I remembered that it had run over the first rider and was one of the worst cows in the herd."

Tarin Rice, last year's Senior Youth champion, had scored 224 in the first set on Would Ya Wanna and held the lead, when Caleb worked seventh in the third set. Rice ended up as co-reserve champion with Priscilla Crawley, who cut on Trickalenas Choice, immediately following Caleb's run.

Left to right: Priscilla Crowley, 18, Unadilla, GA, co-reserve champion of the Senior Youth with 224 points on Trickalenas Choice; Tarin Rice, 19, Spearman, TX, co-reserve champion of the Senior Youth with 224 points on Wood Ya Wanna; Doris Lane Wood, 12, Stephenville, TX, with 222 points on Donas Cool Cat.

Lights, by Smart Mate, is owned by Caleb's dad, Steve Anderson, who rides Esthers Rita in today's second go-round.

Caleb won the 2006 Junior Youth riding Sun Valley Shorty.

Junior Youth

Harris Shepard, 13, Magnolia Springs, AL, won the Junior Youth championship with 224 points; Lane Wood, Stephenville, TX, claimed reserve with 222.

This was Harris's first time to show in Will Rogers Coliseum; he was aboard Peponita Times Two, owned by Khader Daoud.

"It was the best run I've ever had on a horse," said Harris, who began showing again last April, after a five-year hiatus. It was his brother, Austin Shepard, winner of the 2007 NCHA Futurity and co-champion of the Super Stakes on High Brow CD, who inspired Harris to begin cutting again.

"I got really nervous and I didn't like being that way, so I quit for a while," Harris explained about his decision at eight to stop showing. "Seeing my brother win the Futurity, I fell in love with it and started back because I wanted to show, and now I don't get as nervous."

Peponita Times Two, with $180,000, was trained by Austin Shepard; Daoud won the 2006 NCHA Classic Challenge Non-Pro riding the gelded son of Pa Pete Bolton.

You say it's your birthday!

These NCHA members are celebrating their birthday today.
